Introduction

This Business Plan describes the work, which the Ulster-Scots Agency proposes to undertake during 2008 in terms of implementation of the various programmes and projects set out in the Agency’s Corporate Plan 2008 –2010. It builds on the success of previous Corporate and Business plans to further develop ongoing work and to ensure the Agency meets its legislative remit. The plan will enable the Agency to fulfil its mission to promote the study, conservation, development and use of Ulster-Scots as a living language; to encourage and develop the full range of its attendant culture; and to promote an understanding of the history of the Ulster-Scots"
OVERVIEW OF WORK TO DATE

The Ulster-Scots Agency programme of work outlined in past Corporate and Business Plans has been based on four strategic themes namely:

- Linguistic Development
- Culture
- Education
- Public Awareness and Understanding of Ulster-Scots

The Linguistic aspect of our work has over a number of years been resourced through grants to the Ulster Scots Language Society. However with the appointment of a Director of Language towards the end of 2005 the Agency was able to become more proactive. In 2006 the Agency supported the first ever Ulster Scots summer schools. These were essentially pilot projects which proved most successful and form a significant part of our plans for the future. Additionally we commenced work on publishing Ulster Scots writers with the first book featuring the works of the early 19th century poet Sarah Leech from Donegal, and we propose to continue this very important publishing effort.

The Agency through its grant aid and sponsorship schemes continues to support groups and organisations in the development of Ulster-Scots culture. Over the last few years the major areas of growth have been in dance and musical tuition. We have been encouraged by the variety of projects that groups are initiating and becoming involved with and we hope to increase this level of activity even further. Again over the last year we have been more proactive, in partnership with the community, in organising Agency led events.
As a result of funding from the Irish Youth Foundation we employed a Youth Development Officer on secondment for one year in 2006 to work with young people in inner city areas; this has been an important initiative for the Agency which must be further developed.

The Agency is actively engaged with the community to establish effective and meaningful ways to assist the community to fulfil its potential
The Agency has produced a range of information leaflets and other publications, and hosts a number of websites. We are very aware of the importance of communication and we will build on this success over the next three years.

The Agency has put in place a public relations strategy which continually strives to ensure that the public are informed of Ulster-Scots issues. It is realistic, however to acknowledge that much work remains to be done. The Agency has made rapid progress over the last few years to meet the various targets required under Corporate Governance and we are determined to continue to do so.
The targets and objectives set out in this Business Plan will build on the work previously undertaken.

The Agency recognises that there are challenges to be met if it is to achieve its objectives. These challenges are summarised as follows:

- Lack of public awareness.
- Erosion of the language.
- The linguistic debate about the language, locally and in Scotland.
- The future of the Ulster-Scots language.
- Increasing homogenization and globalization of culture
Through the implementation of this plan the Ulster-Scots Agency will contribute to a revival of awareness and appreciation of the rich and diverse linguistic and cultural heritage of our society.

The Agency recognises the level of resources required if the Agency is to fulfil its remit and provide high quality service on linguistic and cultural issues to an ever increasing community demand, realising the Ulster Scots potential and this plan has been written accordingly.

Accordingly, this Plan is based on a budget allocation of £3,315,000 for 2008 which shall be allocated by the respective British and Irish Governments.

In the table below the budget allocation is broken down for the 2008 year into the Agency’s key current strategic themes and Staff/Running Costs.

The 2008 Budget has been profiled to produce a planned breakdown based on experience and monitoring of the Agency budget.
The Corporate Plan for 2008-2010 is designed to build on the success of Agency support for community initiatives with an Ulster Scots dimension which can assist in establishing community cohesion.

The Corporate Plan is built on the following strategic themes:

Marketing

The Ulster Scots Agency has at its core a promotional remit. Promotion comes in many forms and it is accepted that every aspect of the Agency’s work involves promotion whether it be through publications, grant assisted activity or delivering a service to other organisations. However central to all of this is a marketing and information strategy that involves the optimum use or resources to inform and educate people about Ulster Scots both in general and more specific terms.

Serving the community

The Agency recognises the need to protect and grow our cultural capital and is extremely conscious of the importance of cultural activity to people. The Ulster Scots community is at a stage of development that requires careful nurture and a coherent strategy to enable that community to fully develop and achieve its potential.

Working with others

If the Agency is to succeed in encouraging as many people to engage in Ulster Scots activities either as participants or audience/spectators it is essential to establish partnerships with key organisations.

The Agency recognises that it alone cannot meet the needs of the Ulster Scots community and we are therefore committed to building relationships with Government Departments, Statutory and voluntary Agencies and others who have a role to play

Commitment to a first class service

The Agency considers itself to be a service provider. To ensure that we offer a first class service to our stakeholders and partners we will strive to ensure that our processes and procedures operate effectively and efficiently.
PROGRAMMES AND ACTIVITIES FOR 2008

This Business Plan for 2008 is aligned with the Corporate Plan 2008 – 20010 in relation to the themes; however the allocation of the budget between the strategic themes of the Agency has of necessity been profiled to best meet the evolving business needs of the Ulster Scots Community. This Plan defines the programme of work, which will translate these themes into actions. The resources, objectives, key deliverables, targets and impact associated with the programme are outlined in the Plan which is based on a budget of £3,315,000 for 2008.

The breakdown of budget into strategic themes is as follows:

(Plus grant assistance from SEUPB under the Peace II Programme measure 5.2. - to complete the project commenced in 2007 by May 2008)

*Included in this amount is money payable to DFP to cover the Accruing Superannuation Liability Charges (ASLCs) calculated on agreed contribution ratios for pay budgets and staffing complements. The Irish Exchequer in the South proposes to meet its pension liability for these staff on a pay as you go basis in line with its normal method of meeting these obligations.

This ASLC figure is based on the staffing complement in post in November 2007 and will increase with the recruitment of staff in line with the staffing review recommendation.
The Plan will be subject to review during the course of 2008 to ensure it remains relevant, realistic and achievable. The Board will undertake this on a quarterly basis and progress reports will be presented to the sponsor Departments. The Board will also monitor progress against targets and objectives and regular progress reports will be presented to sponsor Departments.

We will continue to work with community organisations to ensure they fulfil that potential in linguistic activity, music, dance, literature, drama and the visual arts, helping people to unlock their creativity.

The development of active participation by community groups, organisations and individuals in linguistic and cultural activity will be a major feature of the Agency’s work over the period of this plan.

To ensure this the Agency will work with and provide financial assistance through grant aid or sponsorship to a wide variety of Ulster Scots groups, community organisations and individuals in line with our Financial Assistance Scheme.

We will also provide sustained training opportunities which will deliver programmes to improve community infrastructure and build capacity within the Ulster Scots community.

In addition to the financial support provided to community groups, organisations and individuals provided directly by the Agency we will work with these groups to assist them in drawing down funding from Government Departments and other funding bodies for Ulster Scots activities.

* This is subject to Agency budget and satisfactory review of the work of the Heritage Council.
3) Working with Others

Aim:
If the Agency is to succeed in encouraging as many people to engage in Ulster Scots activities either as participants or audience/spectators it is essential to establish partnerships with key organisations.

The Agency recognises that it alone cannot meet the needs of the Ulster Scots community and we are therefore committed to building relationships with Government Departments, Statutory and voluntary Agencies and others who have a role to play.

The Agency will provide advice to Ministers and Government Departments North and South and to the North/South Ministerial Council on issues of policy and strategy.

It will be a facilitator for the mainstreaming of Ulster Scots.

There is a need for Ulster Scots to be available within the formal education system as part of the curriculum and the Agency will work with the relevant Departments and organisations North and South to deliver this. It is recognised that the Agency will not have responsibility for the development of language programmes to examination level in schools and ultimately to degree level. The Agency will therefore focus on history and heritage. Initially this will be a feature of the history curriculum but will also cross into other themes such as geography and citizenship. It is not intended that the Agency be other than a persuader for this though where appropriate the Agency may make resources available for this to be achieved.

The Agency will also work with individual schools, colleges and universities to promote academic study of Ulster Scots.
It is widely recognised that cultural tourism is a vitally important component to the economy of both jurisdictions. It is equally important in the growth and development of communities. The Agency will therefore work with Tourism Ireland, NITB, Failte Ireland and all relevant agencies to improve the visitor experience by supporting Ulster Scots activity which will add value to visitor and resident alike.

Ulster Scots influence is all around us including “built heritage”. The Agency will therefore engage with organisations such as the Environment and Heritage Service to develop greater awareness of this aspect of the heritage.

During the period of this plan we will witness the 400th anniversary of one of the defining moments in our shared history – The Plantation of Ulster. The Agency will draw upon the experience from the anniversaries of The Hamilton and Montgomery Settlement and The Flight of The Earls to provide leadership in commemorating this anniversary and will work with local Councils and voluntary and statutory bodies to ensure that the commemorations are appropriate and timely.

The Agency recognises the important role to be played by the Ulster Scots Heritage Council and will provide core funding to that organisation during the period of this plan.

We have a close working relationship with colleagues in Foras na Gaeilge and this is evidenced in the various joint projects organised by the Language Body.
